

Seth Price

Archaeological Consultant

BA Archaeology ACIfA

Seth works as part of the archaeology team in for CgMs in Newark, Nottinghamshire. He is a widely experience heritage professional, with a background in archaeology and built heritage. Seth is responsible for preparing desk-based assessments, undertaking setting assessments, producing written-schemes of investigation, and commissioning geophysical surveys.

Experience

Seth joined CgMs Heritage (part of RPS Group PLC) in January 2018, after working for six years in commercial archaeology, both in the UK and abroad.

In his most recent role, prior to joining CgMs, he worked for Archaeology South-East (part of UCL) throughout the southeast of England, as a Historic Buildings Archaeologist. The role involved the production of archaeological desk-based assessments, built heritage statements, archaeological condition surveys, historic building records, and archaeological reports.

Seth's current role includes the production of specialist heritage reports as a part of the planning process. His work includes liaison with local planning archaeologists and clients, and the management and commissioning of geophysical surveys.
