Key Issues

Rapid completion of desk-top study assessing the archaeology and conservation area constraints on this urban site.

CgMs completed a desk-top study within a tight timescale to assess the archaeology and conservation area constraints for a high density residential and mixed use development at Cavendish Quarter Dudley. The report will form part of a Developer's Brief for this site. Further archaeological and historic buildings work will be required ahead of development and CgMs is liaising closely with Dudley Metropolitan Borough Council to ensure this is smoothly integrated with the programme of development.
